

8 GOOD REASONS

to choose Davies Metal Works Stainless Steel
Hospital Trolleys & Cabinets

1 Hygiene

Stainless steel is the first choice in hospitals, domestic & commercial kitchens and food & pharmaceutical processing facilities for a very good reason. It is the most hygienic surface available, easily cleaned with no opportunity for bacteria to build up.

2 Appearance

Our stainless steel trolleys look professional. They are easily and quickly cleaned. A warm soapy cloth or sponge is all you require most of the time and minor smudges or finger prints can be removed with a good quality water-based window cleaner.

And they look right. Stainless steel does not rust, provided it is appropriately maintained and it can be easily polished with a stainless steel polish to restore a shiny finish.

3 Durability

Stainless steel lasts. It's virtually impossible to wear through with normal use and due to its high tensile strength, you're not likely to dent it without a major blow being struck. There are textures designed to reduce the visual effect of scratching, so a trolley that's seen years of use looks much newer than it actually is. Should the surface eventually require a 'face-lift', it can be brought back to looking virtually brand new with a commercial polishing job by our qualified tradesmen.

4 Long term value

All equipment should be maintained. Stainless steel's durability and ease of cleaning provide long life, low maintenance cost products. When the total life cycle costs are considered, stainless steel is often the least expensive material option.

5 Flexible, Functional Designs

If we don't have a hospital trolley from our ever-growing range to meet your needs, we can design it. And we will do so to meet your functional requirements. You can choose from a range of stainless textures and finishes, radius, square or wet edges, straight or curved lines and a wide range of castors to suit your needs.
